Our Services and Solutions Go Beyond Hotel Properties...

SHARED OWNERSHIP LODGING

Many hospitality projects today are structured on a mixed-use development model that includes vacation ownership, hotel-condominium, all-inclusive hotel, retail, office, or residential components. If you're considering entering or expanding your presence in shared-ownership real estate, we can provide strategic advice, consulting, and valuation services—wherever your project is located. We've worked with clients across the globe and have strong relationships with all the major timeshare companies, so we can find the right partner for your project. We'll also help you negotiate the best deal structure and coordinate any needed pre-development activities and services.

RESORT RESIDENTIAL PROPERTIES

The sale of residential units is a financial driver for many projects in seasonal destinations and has become a fundamental element of hospitality projects. We can help you size the residential component and determine the appropriate product and unit mix. Whether for primary or seasonal residents, single family residences or condominium towers, we'll help you assess the feasibility and value of residential units, as well as create price appreciation and sales strategies for your project.

GOLF AND SPA & WELLNESS SERVICES

If you are considering adding or expanding to your golf course or spa-and-wellness services at your property, HVS offers end-to-end expert advice and analysis. We deliver insights into the important and complex interactions among golf, spa, and other hotel and mixed-use operations so that you can determine the best plan for your location. Our strategies help you to develop a thriving spa-and-wellness lifestyle program to enhance the value of your property and optimize hotel engagement. Similarly, we can develop strategies to increase the value of your golf facility so that your property appeals to an increasingly diversified clientele.

CONVENTIONS, SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT FACILITIES

Communities increasingly look to develop convention centers, sports facilities and performing arts venues to stimulate their local economy and improve their residents' quality of life. Whether you are a public agency or private developer, careful planning is needed for successful implementation. We can help you understand the costs, benefits and risks of development through each step of the process. We've worked in hundreds of cities, towns and villages worldwide and have created ground-breaking models of public/private partnerships. No project is too large or too small.

CASINOS

Within the gaming industry, we offer a range of global services and expertise to help you evaluate existing and proposed casino projects. Our projects span a breadth of gaming types from mixed-use, Las Vegas-style integrated resorts and full-service destination casinos, to riverboat complexes, "racinos" and card rooms. We conduct thorough assessments of gaming market supply and demand dynamics and can also provide expert opinions in casino litigation and tax certiorari cases based on our expertise and credibility. You can rely on our in-depth investigation and the analysis and reporting of the numerous factors that influence the performance and value of a gaming asset.

MIXED-USE DEVELOPMENT

Prospective owners can rely on HVS to fully evaluate every hospitality project to determine its investment viability. We provide thorough market supply and demand studies and financial feasibility analyses to help you understand and unlock potential performance. Our longstanding relationships with major hotel companies offer extensive insights into the operating performance of all types of hotels and mixed-use properties. This unrivaled intelligence means the assessments and forecasts we deliver are highly credible — so you can make a "go/no go" decision with confidence.
